'Strengthening Citizens Voice & Public Accountability' – Curriculum Design & Training of Trainers

USAID
FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

The Asia Foundation

The USAID's Citizens' Voice Project aims to improve engagement between citizens and government in order to promote good governance in Pakistan. Grants were awarded to local community organizations by The Asia Foundation (sub-partner) for implementing their proposed initiatives in assigned thematic areas.

ECI designed a 3-day quick-impact training curriculum on 'Strengthening Citizens Voice & Public Accountability' directed for the CSOs who have received grant funding from the USAID citizen's voice project across a number of thematic areas. The objective of the training curriculum was to orient the participants to concepts of good governance, voice and accountability, accountability framework and mechanisms, and practical steps CSOs could take to become an effective channel for citizens' voice in Pakistan.

In addition to curriculum design, ECI also designed and delivered a 4-day Training of Trainers for Asia Foundation staff working on the USAID Citizens' Voice Project.

Orientation and Capacity Building of Persons Authorized to enforce Tobacco Control Laws in Pakistan

A legal review of the Prohibition of Smoking and Protection of Non-Smokers Health Ordinance 2002 was implemented because of which, all public indoor areas became no smoking zones. The Tobacco Control Cell was working actively on the implementation and ECI facilitated the process by developing and designing the training curriculum used to train all cadres of persons authorized to implement the tobacco control law in Pakistan.

After the completion of material development phase, cascade training was rolled out all over Pakistan in which the trainees (who were the authorized personnel) were told what action could be taken against the law breakers and what was the legal way of taking the action along with the hazards that smoking results in. For the cascade training, ECI conducted the first round of training i.e., Training of Master Trainers.

Support to the Implementation of GRAPS (SIG)

SIG A: Institutionalization of Gender Mainstreaming in Public Sector Institutions

In order to support the Gender Reform Action Plans (GRAP) ECI worked with Semiotics consultant to design and deliver a capacity building program for gender mainstreaming in 20 selected public sector training institutions. The project focused on mainstreaming gender in institutional processes as well as selected training curriculum. At the end of the project, a national 'Open Forum' was organized in Islamabad where all 20 institutions as well as relevant stakeholders had an opportunity to share their learning & achievements vis-à-vis gender mainstreaming as well as 'show & tell' mainstreamed curriculum.

SIG B: Institutional Strengthening of SW&WD Directorate of KPK

In order to support the Gender Reform Action Plans (GRAP) ECI worked with Semiotics consultant to design and deliver a capacity building program for the Provincial Social Welfare and Women Development Department of KPK by developing and implementing a specialized program for women-focused industrial training centers (ITCs). A 15-day enterprise and skills development training was rolled out for 105 representatives from 94 ITCs from across KPK. Through the training program participants had a chance to revisit ITC business plans with a view to organizational sustainability. Moreover, they were oriented to new techniques and skills that they could impart to their trainees.

SIG C: Institutional Strengthening of SW&WD Directorate of Baluchistan

In order to support the Gender Reform Action Plans (GRAP) ECI worked with Semiotics consultant to design & Implement a specialized 3-day workshop on 'Managing Effective Gender Development' for the Government of Baluchistan. Based upon an intensive TNA, the training focused on helping participants to proactively prioritize relevant areas for women's development in Baluchistan, facilitate formation of a provincial human resource pool for development of gender-mainstreamed government planning documents as well as play a leadership role in taking forward the gender agenda in Baluchistan.

Strategic Reorientation of the Commissionerate for Afghan Refugees (CAR), Ministry of State & Frontier Regions (SAFRON).

Although the spectrum of refugees in Pakistan includes Somalis, Iraqis and Iranians, Afghan citizens have constituted the largest and most protracted group to have entered the country since its inception. The nature of the crisis in Afghanistan combined with other factors persuaded the Government of Pakistan to pledge their support towards maintenance and care of Afghan citizens temporarily residing in Pakistan (refugees) in partnership with the United Nations High Commission for Refugees (UNCHR).

During a two-day strategic retreat of UNHCR and Ministry of SAFRON on management of the Afghan population in Pakistan several issues were identified, including security issues, rehabilitation issues etc. The retreat focused on the need to 'rethink' how these organizations should work together in the future to "confront challenges ahead" and to "achieve shared goals". For this purpose, ECI was contracted and performed the following tasks:

- Assessment of the relationship between UNHCR and Ministry of SAFRON (CCAR/ CAR) and to establish strategic value of the current partnership;
- Organizational assessment of the Chief Commissionerate for Afghan Refugees and Provincial Commissionerate for Afghan Refugees (CCAR/CAR);
- Suggesting strategies for future partnership between SAFRON and UNHCR;
- Presentation of practical recommendations/action steps for each stakeholder to take proposed strategic agenda forward.

Design & Development of all Training Material for the Election Commission of Pakistan under the Support to National Election Project (SNEP)

The Support to National Elections in Pakistan (SNEP) Project, managed by UNDP with support from donors, was implemented with an objective of facilitating free, fair and transparent elections in Pakistan. One of the key mandates of the Project was the capacity building of polling officials and key stakeholders who facilitated, managed and monitored the 2007-8 elections. ECI was contacted to conceptualize and develop interactive material to be rolled out in further ToT and actual trainings.

ECI conceptualized, designed and developed a series of five sets of training material (participant handbooks and trainers manuals) for District Returning Officers, Returning Officers & Assistant Returning Officers, Presiding Officers, Polling Staff (Assistant Presiding Officers & Polling Officers) as well as Polling Agents. These manuals were developed keeping in mind specific functions of each officer and the skill/knowledge set needed by him/her to be effective. The material was very interactive, colorful and illustrated keeping in mind the target audience.

Jafakash Aurat Project

For the Women's Vocational Training Center (VTC) in Gwadar, design and implementation of a set of six vocational training courses tailored for women in and around Gwadar city. These programs were developed after an intensive TNA, and the objective behind the intervention was to leverage technical training as a means for income enhancement of local women through employment or enterprise development. Vocational training programs developed and implemented included courses in: office management, information technology, beauty culture, cooking and catering, teacher training and tailoring & design. Each course was reinforced by a mandatory enterprise development or job placement workshop.
